

A1123 will Reduce Domestic Violence and Child Abuse

Vote YES on Tuesday May 11, 2004. 11AM
Children & Families Committee meeting.

Keeping both parents in a child's life prevents abuse and promotes self-esteem by providing a safety net for children in abusive or potentially abusive home situations.

Girls without Fathers are 900% more likely to be victims of sexual abuse than those with Fathers. (See Father's Rights, Jeffrey Leving, Esq., 1998, Basic Books).

“There is no system ever devised by mankind that is guaranteed to rip husband and wife or father, mother and child apart so bitterly than our present Family Court system.” Brian Lindsay, Retired Justice, NYS Supreme Court

A1123 - Respects and supports both parents' rights to raise their children, thus considerably reducing the tension and ongoing acrimony caused by current “winner/loser” policy. A1123 effectively addresses Justice Lindsay's concern.
